Hillsborough County is home to a diverse population of more than 1.3 million people scattered across over 1,000 square miles of land that includes communities in peaceful rural neighborhoods and exciting urban hubs. Regardless of our backgrounds, the people of Hillsborough County share a common desire for prosperity for our families, in our careers, and for our entire community.

Prosperity is defined by the ability for people to pursue and achieve the things that improve their lives. Each individual determines their own prosperity differently. For some, prosperity is financial security or better health; for others it might be better education or access to recreational opportunities. Whatever your definition, as individual prosperity improves, community prosperity flourishes.

The role of local government is to foster conditions that enable individuals, businesses, and the whole community to prosper in their pursuits. Hillsborough County does this by providing services that support five strategic outcomes:

- customer service and satisfaction
- safe and attractive communities that residents are proud to call home;
- a strong and sustainable local economy;
- healthy and enjoyable places to live, work and play;
- self-sufficiency and quality of life for those who need help;

On the following pages, you will read residents' stories that illustrate how Hillsborough County helps build prosperity for individuals and the community as a whole, all while providing stellar customer service and satisfaction through programs such as Economic Development, Children's Services, Sunshine Line, and many more.

Hillsborough County's Adopted Budget for FY 17 is fiscally responsible and continues to allow the County to provide excellent service at a lower cost with better outcomes. Since 2010, County government has endeavored to do more with less by focusing resources and energies in support of community prosperity, while identifying opportunities to reduce the cost of government. This approach has yielded a 12% reduction in the cost of government since 2010, and a 3.2% savings for County Administrator department budgets in FY 17 alone. Because of our fiscal responsibility, our general obligation bond rating, which is determined by the three national credit rating agencies, remains at the top-tier "AAA" level. This credit rating is the highest attainable rating and is only awarded to governments and corporations that demonstrate sound management practices and financial strength. Our reserve funds remain stable, and Hillsborough County remains well positioned to excel in meeting the needs of our residents and our business community.

Strategic Outcomes

The County has identified five strategic outcomes, illustrated below, that together will achieve the ultimate goal of building prosperity for individuals and the community, while providing stellar customer service and satisfaction that contribute to a positive quality of life.

Summary of Position Changes FY 10 - FY 17

As the economy continues to recover from the recent recession, Hillsborough County remains committed to efficiency and fiscal responsibility, especially with regard to staffing levels. Since 2010, the County has reduced its staff by 422 positions. The County has accomplished this while increasing focus on public safety. In fact, the County Administrator has added 176 public safety positions since 2010, while cutting 598 positions from all other County departments.

FY 17 Total Budget

The County's budget is dedicated to keeping Hillsborough County financially strong in order to generate prosperity for decades to come. Unlike most family budgets, the County's Total Budget has many revenue sources and most are restricted for specific purposes. The total $4.9 billion County budget includes non-cash accounting transactions ("transfers"), non-spendable items like reserves, and budgets for capital projects (like roads, buildings, stormwater pipes, and fire stations) and debt service – none of which are available to pay for day-to-day operations and community services.

FY 17 Citizen Services Budget

The Citizen Services Budget includes the County Administrator's budget plus the budgets of organizations independent of the Administrator. Revenue to pay for these services come from property taxes, sales taxes, fuel taxes, voter-approved taxes, fees, and grants. Property taxes fund many of the fundamental needs of our community. In a tax bill for a typical residential property in Hillsborough County, just over 52% is distributed to the County for Citizen Services. Other dollars are directed to our local school system and other agencies. Of the portion the County receives, 48% is allocated to the justice system – law enforcement and detention services, courts, and criminal justice programs. The remaining monies are used to fund County services through the Administrator's General Fund.

FY 17 County Administrator's General Fund Budget

The Administrator's General Fund budget is just a piece of the larger $1.89 billion Citizen Services Budget that pays for all of the services residents need to prosper. The Administrator's General Fund budget places a priority on public safety and infrastructure. In fact, 66% of the County Administrator's General Fund budget is allocated to promoting Safe & Attractive Communities. Other service priorities include providing a Healthy & Enjoyable Place to Live, Work, and Play; ensuring Self-Sufficient People & Families; and growing a Strong Economy.

Not all was lost in devastating fire

Basil and Patty lost their home to a fire the day before Thanksgiving. It's what they didn't lose, though, that they'll always remember.

The day started normally enough. Basil took out the garbage at about 8:20 a.m., then went back inside, leaving the garage door open. He and Patty were on opposite sides of the house on their computers when a neighbor pounded on the door at 9 a.m. and told them their house was on fire.

"I opened the door going into the garage and saw flames," Patty said. "I had no idea the whole attic was on fire."

Patty yelled for her husband, grabbed her cellphone and oxygen tank and ran outside in her pajamas. Minutes after she called 911, six Hillsborough County Fire Rescue vehicles and an ambulance pulled up to their home in the Bay Crest Park subdivision. "The garage was kind of melting," Patty said.

As the firefighters attacked the blaze, Patty told them she and her husband were safe but that she couldn't find their cat, Puddy.

"They went in and they said they couldn't see anything, the house was so full of smoke," Patty said. "Luckily, my little cat that never had a voice got a voice and started meowing so loud and they found her."

Puddy was suffering from smoke inhalation so firefighters used an oxygen mask designed for infants to help her breathe. Later, when the fire was out, a firefighter told Patty one wall was covered in sooty cat paw prints where Puddy had tried to reach an air vent to escape the smoke and heat.

Puddy wasn't all that firefighters rescued. Basil and Patty had been married just less than two years, and they had wedding pictures laid out on a table in the house. A firefighter dragged the entire table to another room where firefighters weren't spraying water on the fire. Another firefighter saw some wedding albums and saved them.

"They are just one crackerjack team," Patty said. "A lot of things were saved."

Entrepreneur Resources Direct Maestro to Success

Matthew Maines turned his passion for music into a seven-year career as an elementary school music teacher, but he always knew that he wanted more. In 2015, Matthew followed his dreams and opened his own music studio, becoming an entrepreneur.

The first months working full time on his business were far from a dream. He had a great space, plenty of instruments, and kid-friendly lesson plans, yet no one was walking through his door.

“I came to realize that you’ve got to know what business is - how to run a business - and I knew none of that,” Matthew said. “I was a very good music teacher and I thought if I built it, it’d come. That’s what drove me to research the SBDC and start attending classes.”

Matthew completed several business classes through the Florida Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at Hillsborough County and took advantage of the agency’s no-cost consulting to get customers through the door.

Armed with market insights and a new direction, soon business was booming. Tampa Music School is serving 75 families and now has another, better problem: they’re sold out.

Matthew says that, for the moment, he is enjoying the fact that he needs employees. He plans to continue working with the Florida SBDC at Hillsborough County throughout the growth process.

“For somebody that was already established and in business and failing miserably at it, I took advantage of the classes,” Matthew said. “They had free services and counseling and coaching. You would be crazy to not take advantage of the Florida SBDC at Hillsborough County’s services.”

Hillsborough County has an array of programs and tools to help businesses succeed. In 2015, the County helped establish 440 new small businesses.

A Love of Learning Never Grows Old

Carolyn retired to Florida late in 2015 after a career in the Minneapolis School District, but never lost the joy of seeing children learn and read.

Thanks to the Gardenville Schoolhouse, she never will.

Hillsborough County renovated the Gardenville Schoolhouse in 2015 and reopened it as a senior center, with programming managed by Aging Services.

Carolyn participates in a Hillsborough County Aging Services' program that brings seniors and children together at the Gibsonton schoolhouse, which was built more than 90 years ago but had been shuttered until extensive renovations last year.

The seniors read and play with the youngsters attending Park & Recreation's summer camp, often using the same books they had read years ago to their own children. Carolyn said time spent with books at an early age makes "a huge difference in their reading ability and love for reading. Being able to read helps the children's self-esteem."

She gets no argument from Abigale and Anaya. The girls, both 7, said it makes them happy to hear the stories. They also sometimes read to the seniors, sounding out words they don't know.

"We like reading so we can get better," Anaya said.

Carolyn opens a Dr. Seuss book and begins reading to an eager audience of children crowded around her. The educator in her knows how important it is for children to have somebody read to them, somebody to reveal the lifetime of joy that can come from reading.

The child in her knows the kids aren't the only ones benefiting.

"They can help us stay young," Carolyn said. Then, voice steady, she begins to read.

Haley Park Apartments designed to help seniors and veterans

Haley Park Apartments was never meant to be just another housing complex. From the beginning, the project was focused on helping seniors, particularly Veterans, who had worked hard all their lives and needed safe, decent housing they could afford.

People like Blake.

Blake, 57, was one of the first tenants accepted at the 55-and-older affordable housing complex. He now lives in a one-bedroom apartment that includes a kitchen island with granite countertop, a walk-in closet and a large shower.

It's a world away from the several months he spent homeless or couch surfing with friends, when he didn't know if he would eat that day or have a bed to sleep in that night.

Haley Park Apartments marks one of the County's most ambitious efforts to provide affordable housing for seniors with very low, low or moderate incomes. Making the 80-unit, $14 million complex a reality required an innovative mix of funding from local, state, federal and private sources, with Hillsborough County funneling more than $5 million to the project.

The complex features a disabled-accessible pool, theater room, hair salon, library, exercise room, community garden and dog park.

Blake, who was a systems operator on Mohawk helicopters for most of his 11-year stint in the U.S. Army, said the amenities quickly created a sense of community at Haley Park. Residents gather in the community room or large lobby for both programmed and informal gatherings.

"It's just like a little neighborhood," Blake said, noting other residents jokingly refer to him as the mayor of Haley Park.

Veterans are given preference in the application process. In addition to providing housing for Veterans, Haley Park fits into the County's mission of reducing the costs of social services by focusing on prevention instead of just treatment. Residents with safe, affordable housing are less likely to need additional social services like emergency room visits and stays in homeless shelters.

Sunshine Line provides transportation for those with few other options

Every day begins the same for Velma. In the dark. Velma is legally blind but doesn't want anyone to feel sorry for her. She has maintained her independence just fine, thank you.

Velma, 60, lives alone in her Wimauma home. She knows where every chair is, every plate and fork. She navigates her home with confidence and likes to keep up an active social life.

And when she needs to buy groceries, she calls Sunshine Line. "There is no bus service out in my area so Sunshine Line is all I have," Velma said.

Hillsborough County's Sunshine Line provides door-to-door transportation or bus passes for elderly, low-income or disabled residents who don't have or can't afford their own transportation. Fares are free or low-cost, depending on the client's situation.

For Velma, that means safe, reliable transportation when she has to go to the doctor or run errands that sighted people take for granted. "It allows me to continue to take care of myself," Velma said. "It has given me my independence."

Velma uses Sunshine Line so often the drivers have become like part of her family. They know her schedule, where she needs to go. She tells them how her day is going; they do the same.

She knows their voices, and is quick to rattle off the names of her regular drivers: Oscar, Anna, Eddy, Susana, and Dominic.

"The drivers are incredibly helpful," Velma said. "They greet me at my door and walk me from my front door to the bus and when I'm getting off, they are right there to assist me. They are there every step of the way."

Sunshine Line served more than 8,000 people in the last fiscal year, with a 98 percent customer satisfaction rating. By making sure residents can get to the doctor or to a job, Sunshine Line has an estimated return on investment of $8.35 per $1 spent.

Hillsborough County Library Unlocks New Worlds

When Yana and her family moved to the United States two years ago, she felt the journey was an exciting adventure. She compared her experience to Alice in Wonderland, witnessing a new world expand all around her.

But when Yana visited the Town 'N Country Regional Public Library for the first time, her new world got a lot bigger.

"One of my greatest eye-opening experiences was at the library," Yana said. "In Ukraine, people go to the library, but use it for studying."

Yana often visits the library to use an array of services beyond what libraries have traditionally provided. She is impressed with the cutting edge technology, including Wi-Fi Internet access and its scanning, printing, and faxing services, as well as the programs the library offers, especially English conversation clubs where both instructors and students assist people like Yana as they begin a new life in Hillsborough County.

"You can get help with writing a resume and help with taxes," she says. "What surprised me the most is that it is perfectly organized and absolutely free."

Adding to the library's peaceful atmosphere is the warm and gracious staff and volunteers who help customers like Yana. When she attends her English conversation classes, she is pleased to meet fellow Ukrainians who have just moved to Hillsborough County.

"I think for people who have just come to the U.S., the library is a wonderful place to start and take social adaptation in the new life," Yana said.

Hillsborough County Library Services' mission is to provide the highest quality in reading materials and resources to satisfy the diverse educational, recreational, and cultural needs of County residents. In 2016, Library Services experienced more than four million patron visits. Additionally, library users borrowed over one million e-books, leading the nation in growth of e-book borrowing.
